We often hear that Hollywood films lack diversity, but rarely do we hear about the lack of employment of those with disabilities. When sexual orientation, race, and gender are always at the forefront of this matter, what can we do to celebrate the actors who have overcome incredible obstacles and have achieved prodigious careers? Please join us for a discussion with actors and key figures who will shine a light on disability inclusion.

Featuring: Millicent Simmonds (Hearing impaired Actress - A Quiet Place, Wonderstruck), Carol Glazer (National Organization on Disability), Governor Tom Ridge (Chairman, The National Organization on Disability), Chris Lopes and Kathy Lopes (subjects of A Different Script), and Mr. John H. Hager (author and former Chairman of the Republican Party of Virginia).

This panel is generously underwritten by The Stapleton Foundation and Bank of America in honor of former President George H. W. Bush and the critical legislation he passed to create a more equitable world for the disabled.
